OFFICE: NO. 15 QUINCY STREET, FREW, HAGANS & HALL.

TUENDAY MORNING, NOV. 23. Something More About Gas

The chief reason, of course, why the city should avail herself of the op-tion she will have a little over thirteen months hence to take the Gas Works at private pockets of the Gas Company, by complaint of limited consumption, for it has voluntarily limited it much beyond what was unavoidable. Avery considerable portion of the city does not at last caught up with the text. take gas at all, some because they cannot get it and others because they can-not afford it. The Island is totally un-The cost of laying down some additional pipe and of perhaps another holder would be about the only expense of increasing the supply of gas, for the additional cost of manufacture would be little or nothing. The coke and coal anyhow and need increase neither their numbers nor pay; it might need a few policy, the Company might have large-ly reduced the price without any diminution of profits, the increase in consumption making up the difference and paying the additional expense. This ight have been of no apparent advantage to the Company, but would have been of great benefit to consumers; and at a fairer price it may be there would have been no demand for a ter-mination of the Company's charter and it might have had another five year's lease. But by exacting the highest price from a limited consumption, rather than accepting a lower price from a larger one, the Company has committed the error of the impatient youth who killed the goose to get the golden eggs, for it has driven its customers to demand that its monopoly shall be terminated as soon as possible. But no comparisons with other cities are needed to show that Wheeling pays a great deal too much for her gas, for the profits of the Company show it most conclusively. As to what the Company actually makes we cannot of course speak by the card, but we now have such information as satisfies us of the following state of facts. The original capital put into the Company was $50,000. Previous to the 1st of July last $48,000 profits had been added to the capital in the shape of stock dividends in addition to cash dividends paid. Since that time there has been a stock dividend of 10 per cent. on this $98,000, making the present capital $107,800. Prior to July last there were semi-annual cash dividends some years of 12 per cent., or 24 per cent. per annum, on the $98,000 capital, or over 47 per cent. per annum on the original investment. Of course nothing is plainer than that all these profits are secure investments at 8 and 10 per cent There can be no plainer sum in arithmetic than that. Just how the city should manage the Gas Works when it comes in posses-sion of them, is something that does not press for immediate consideration. It is sufficiently apparent that she can, according to the choice of the Council, make either a large reduction in the cost of gas to the consumers, or a large annual profit which might go into sinking fund to aid in extinguishing the debt. We know there are responsible gentlemen ready to loan the city money at 8 per cent, to purchase the Works, or to take them at the appraisement and run then, giving the city $10,000 bonus, and obligating them selves to furnish gas of a standard quality at $2.50 per thousand; and they would expect then to net a large per cent on the investment. But we are satisfied that, when the Works come

Mr. Hoar's letter, as coming from member of the Cabinet, is quite significant, as foreshadowing the policy of the Administration.

Our west they tell a story about a dog which was greatly interested in music, which aftended a singing school and which aftended a singing school and was subsequently found in the back yard with a music book in front of him, beating time with his tail on a tin pan and howling 'Old Hundred.'

A GRAMMAR SCHOOL HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES by Benson J. Lossing. J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia A. W. Paull & Co., Wheeling.

This is a neat octavo of 275 pages, embracing an outline history of the United States from the discovery of America to the present time. As the title indicates it is designed for schools and is profusely illustrated. It embra ces only such leading events as the youthful student is likely permanently to remember; and though we have not been able to give it a critical examination, as far as we have looked through it the work is well done both as to design and style.

cont on the investment. But we are satisfied that, when the Works come into possession of the city, if the matter is managed honesily, and is kept out of the hands of a ring, gas will be furnished much more cheaply than this.

There are one or two other features of the question which we intended to refer to in this connection, but cannot without exceeding allotted space.

Attorner General Hoar, in a letter to Mr. F. G. Spaulding, of Buffalo, says: "I am one of those who believed that it was the interest as well as the duty of the nation to return at once to the true and solid standard of value as soon, as active hostilities ceased; that we should have treated the currency as we did our armies—regarding the volunteers of war, to be dispensed with as fast as possible on the return of peaca," Mr. Horace Maynard writes that the currency should be converted into coin at the pleasure of the holder, and Mr. Sumner writes that he believes the time has come for specie resumption, Mr. Hoar's letter, as coming from a member of the Cabinet, is quite signifi-
